

Did You Miss Dr. Gordon?

If you were unable to attend the presentation by David Lee Gordon, MD, FAAN, FANA, FAHA, last Monday, June 8, we have great news for you. His presentation, "The ABCs of Competency-Based Veterinary Medical Education and S.M.A.R.T. Clinical Teaching" is available here.

Getting to Know You

Betsy Coffman, DVM, MS, DACT, is an assistant professor of Theriogenology in the Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences. Originally from Albuquerque, New Mexico, she earned her BS and DVM degrees at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, Tennessee. She also completed an internship at the University of Tennessee before going to the Ohio State University where she earned a MS degree and completed her residency in theriogenology.

Dr. Coffman's research interests focus on reproductive endocrinology with specific interest in the effect of early diestrus PGF administration in mares and neuroendocrinology of reproduction.

In her spare time, Betsy enjoys riding her horse, Beau; hiking and hanging out with her dog, Sushi Roll; and spending time with family and friends. She also likes to travel and combine vacations with the chance to catch Ohio State (Go Bucks!) football games, U.S. Men's

Welcome Interns

Nine interns join the Department of Veterinary Clinical Sciences today, June 15, and begin their orientation. Please be sure to give these veterinarians an OSU Cowboy welcome if you get the chance.

Please watch for more information on our interns in the "Getting to Know You" section of future issues of Net Vet Weekly:

- Dr. Meagan Batey, Small Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Amy Bertelli, Theriogenology
- Dr. Carrie Cavett, Small Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Kyle Chu, Small Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Cynthia Hopf, Small Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Kari Musgrave, Small Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Jessica Robertson, Avian, Exotics and Zoo Medicine
- Dr. Leslie Wagner, Food Animal Medicine and Surgery
- Dr. Jenna Young, Equine Medicine and Surgery

House Officer Seminar

Dr. Katie Smith will present "Uveitis: managing the Fire Within" on Thursday, June 18, at 8 a.m. in Room 104 at the Veterinary Medical Hospital. Smith is an Ophthalmology Resident mentored by Dr. Jonathan Pucket.

Grandparent University

The veterinary center will host Grandparent University on Thursday and Friday, June 18 and 19. Approximately 35 children and grandparents are expected to attend.

On Thursday afternoon attendees will visit the Veterinary Medical Hospital and on Friday morning they will be at McElroy Hall. Please give our visitors a warm OSU Cowboy welcome.

soccer matches or good concerts whenever possible.

Favorite quote: "More is missed for not looking than not knowing." - Thomas McCrae

CENTER FOR VETERINARY HEALTH SCIENCES
Healthy Animals – Healthy People

OFFICE OF ADVANCEMENT

308 MCELROY HALL, STILLWATER, OK 74078
DERINDA BLAKENEY - DERINDA@OKSTATE.EDU