

CENTER FOR VETERINARY HEALTH SCIENCES

Net Vet Weekly - April 1, 2019

Milo Returns to OSU

Milo, one of America's favorite puppies, recently returned to our Veterinary Medical Hospital for a recheck. A media hit, Milo was easily recognized and warmly welcomed by other clients, faculty, staff and students.

Find out how the pup, born with upside down paws, is doing at Milo Visits OSU.

Free Eye Exams for Service Animals!

The CVHS will once again be offering free eye exams to service and working animals during the month of May.

Owners must pre-register for the sight-saving exams during the month of April. The exams will be given during May at OSU's Veterinary Medical Hospital.

d'Offay Retirement Seminar

A reminder that the d'Offay Retirement Seminar in honor of Jean d'Offay, BVSc, PhD, DACVM, will be held today, April 1, at 3 p.m. in the McElroy Hall Auditorium.

If you cannot attend in person, the seminar will be streaming live on OState TV at <http://ostate.tv>.

Invited speaker, Dr. Christopher Chase, professor in the Department of Veterinary and Biomedical Sciences at South Dakota State University, will present "BHV-1 from understanding little bytes to megabytes and the impact of Jean d'Offay."

We hope you will join us as we recognize Dr. d'Offay's many contributions to the CVHS and veterinary medicine.

Phi Zeta Research Day

Join us on Thursday, April 4, for Phi Zeta Research Day. All presentations will be given between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. in the Veterinary Medical Hospital in Room 104 and in the Faculty Conference Room on the lower level.

Posters will be on display in McElroy Hall lobby throughout the day.

Getting to Know You

Emily Looper is a lab technologist in the parasitology lab at the Oklahoma Animal Disease Diagnostic Laboratory. Originally from Stillwater, she earned a BS degree in microbiology and molecular genetics from OSU.

In her free time, Emily enjoys spending time with her family, being outdoors, making homemade breads, and laughing loudly and often.

Presenters will be available to discuss their projects between 11 a.m. and 12 p.m.

Keynote speaker, Dr. Mark Smeltzer, will present "Bad to the Bone: Overcoming the clinical problem of Staphylococcus aureus as an orthopedic pathogen" at 12 p.m. in McElroy Hall Auditorium.

Join Us for Ultimate Air!

SAVMA, the CVHS Wellness Committee, and the Inclusive Veterinary Community for Empowerment Club will host an Ultimate Air event on Tuesday, April 9, from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Ultimate Air is a trampoline park located at 1815 N. Country Club Road west of Stillwater.

The entire CVHS family and your immediate family are invited to attend at no charge. Admission to the park, soft drinks and snacks will be provided.

Those planning on attending are asked to please RSVP at Ultimate Air Event.
