

A New Tick is Identified

Congratulations to Julia Jordy ('20), Kellee Sundstrom, and Dr. Meriam Saleh from Dr. Susan Little's team on identifying a new tick! The tick came in through a national tick surveillance project being conducted by Little's team.

Find out more about this particular tick and what it means to animal owners at Veterinary Center Identifies New Tick. You can also watch a newscast from KOCO Channel 5 with Dr. Little and Julia Jordy talking about this new tick at CVHS Identifies New Tick.

Congratulations, Dr. Mackey!

Dr. Paige Mackey ('13) achieved the status of Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine in Small Animal Internal Medicine. She recently received her certificate at the ACVIM Annual Conference.

Recruiting Visit

Last month Drs. Carlos Risco, dean, and Daniel Burba, interim head of the Department of Veterinary Clinical

Jones Named Educator of the Year

Congratulations to Meredyth Jones, DVM, MS, DACVIM ('02)! Earlier this year, she was named the 2018 Western Veterinary Conference Food Animal Continuing Educator of the Year.

Jones will be joining the food animal medicine and surgery faculty at the Veterinary Medical Hospital in September 2018.

4-H Students Visit Vet Med

Thank you to the 31 4-H members from across Oklahoma who recently visited the veterinary center. Activities included presentations and hands-on activities.

A shout out to all faculty, staff and students who helped make this a memorable event for our visitors.

Take a closer look at what these 4-H students learned and who helped at 4-H Students Visit OSU's Veterinary Center.

House Officer Seminar

Allison Wilson, DVM, will present "Canine Inflammatory Brain Disease" on Thursday, June 28, at 8 a.m. in Room 104 at the Veterinary Medical Hospital.

Wilson is a small animal medicine resident mentored by Dr. Andrew Hanzlicek.

Getting to Know You

Sciences, visited Ross University on the island of St. Kitts to share information about the wonderful clinical experience we offer off-shore veterinary students. Their gracious hosts were Drs. Sean Callahan, dean, and Fortune Sithole, associate dean, and other members of their administration. "I was very impressed with the pre-clinical program, which has a lot of hands-on training," said Burba. Approximately 75 students attended Dr. Burba's presentation on our clinical program.

Drs. Dan Burba (far left) and Carlos Risco (far right) met four Ross veterinary students who will come to OSU in September to complete their clinical training.

Conor Doyle, DVM, is a small animal medicine and surgery intern. Originally from Newburyport, Mass., he earned his DVM degree from Ross University. His research interests include diagnostic imaging and rehabilitation medicine.

Doyle started his higher education as an accounting major for the first two years before switching to veterinary medicine. In his spare time, Conor enjoys tennis, sports in general, fishing, backpacking and binge watching TV shows.
